CMHC NEWCOMERS

Facilitating housing choice for newcomers to Canada

The CMHC Newcomers program is available to borrowers with permanent and non-permanent residence status. The program helps them access housing they can afford and meets their needs.

Highlights

Accessible to Permanent and Non-Permanent Residents

A permanent resident is someone who has been given permanent resident status by immigrating to Canada, but is not a Canadian citizen. Permanent residents are citizens of other countries (source: Citizenship and Immigration Canada Website).

A non-permanent resident is legally authorized to work in Canada (e.g. work permit).

* Only borrowers who are exempt from the prohibition under the Prohibition on the Purchase of Residential Property by Non-Canadians Act and the accompanying regulations may be considered for mortgage loan insurance.

Establishing Creditworthiness

- At least one borrower (or guarantor) must have a minimum credit score of 600.
- In the absence of a sufficient credit report from a Canadian credit reporting agency, CMHC will establish creditworthiness in one of the following ways:
 - International credit report, or
 - Letter of reference from the borrower's financial institution in their country of origin that supports the strength of the borrower and their financial knowledge and experience, or
 - Alternative methods of establishing creditworthiness. Examples of alternative methods of credit include confirmation of payment of rent or room and board, plus one additional financial obligation or documented regular savings, for the preceding 12 months. If confirmation of rent payments is not available, the borrower should provide verification of three other types of obligations, over the preceding 12 month period, including but not limited to: utilities, cable, childcare expenses, insurance premiums, or documented regular savings.
