

The Canada Mortgage Bonds (CMB) Program was introduced in June 2001 by Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC), Canada's national housing agency.

Canada Housing Trust No. 1 (CHT) was created as a special purpose trust to issue CMB to domestic and international investors. CMB carry a guarantee of timely payment of principal and interest from CMHC. They support the Canadian housing market in promoting competition in the residential mortgage market by helping ensure an adequate supply of mortgage funding to both large and small financial institutions.

2023 ORIGINAL DISTRIBUTION

CURRENT ISSUANCE STRATEGY

- Strong investor demand reflected in annual issuance volumes of approximately $40 billion CAD between 2007 and 2023 ($53 and $45 billion CAD in 2020 and 2023 respectively)
- Expected annual issuance of approximately $30 billion to the market in 2024. The Government of Canada plans to purchase an additional $30 billion on primary market in 2024*
- Issuance of 5 and 10-year fixed rate bonds and 5-year floating rate notes
- Proven track record of functioning effectively throughout all stages of the business cycle, including the challenging markets at the height of the economic downturn

3-Yr Fixed = 3-year issuance was temporary in response to the COVID-19

**In September 2023, the Federal government announced an increase of the annual ceiling for CMB issuance to $60 billion. In the Fall Economic Statement, the government announced its intention to purchase up to $30 billions of CMB starting in February 2024. The remaining CMB will continue to be available for market participants. For the 2024 calendar year, the Bank of Canada, on behalf of the government, has indicated that it will target a total purchase amount of 50% of the fixed rate CMB primary issuances to a maximum of $30 billion per year, although the amount it purchases of any particular new issuance may represent more or less than 50% of that issuance.*
