Highlights

First-time Homebuyers

A 30-year amortization period is available to first-time buyers.

At least one borrower must be a first-time homebuyer. To be considered a first-time homebuyer, a borrower must meet one of the following criteria:

- The borrower has never purchased a home in Canada; or
- At anytime during the current year or four preceding calendar years, the borrower has not occupied a home in Canada as a principal place of residence that either they themselves or their current spouse or common-law partner owned; or
- The borrower recently experienced the breakdown of a marriage or common-law partnership.

Newly Built Homes

To be considered a newly built home, the property must not have been previously occupied for residential purposes.

In the case of a condominium unit, newly built means that the home must never have been occupied for residential purposes other than during a period in which the borrower assumed occupancy on an interim basis before the registration of the condominium declaration or before taking possession.

Bundle and Save

Borrowers purchasing a newly built energy efficient home or renovating an existing home can also leverage CMHC's Eco Products and save on their insurance premium.
